INSTRUCTIONS

I can only suggest how this study was originally conducted and it was very successful. First of all, we tried to arrange a very informal atmosphere with the folks sitting in a loose circle. We would begin the session by having tea, or cokes and an informal time of fellowship. Then we would have a prayer time with everyone suggesting names of those for whom we should pray. It was also mentioned each session that we expected that each individual have at least one person for whom they would agree to pray for in regards to that person's salvation.

To actually begin the study the entire chapter would be read aloud with each one willing to read, taking the number of verses and dividing it by the number of people present and each one reading a portion.

Then the first one on the left (a habit of mine) would begin by reading the first question and giving their answer. The verse where their answer was found must also be given. Then the leader asks if everybody agrees. Let discussion carry on as necessary but not too long. Then go to the next question and the next person until all of the fifteen questions are answered.

For the discussion questions (numbers 16-17-18) each person present should give their answer once again going from the first one on the left and so on. Answer one question at a time, with each person present giving their reasons for their answer to each question. Discussion can be long or short depending on how the group feels. Do not carry the class session on too long.

Encourage each one to prepare his answers BEFORE the session begins if at all possible only because they will get more out of the discussion if they have thought about it.

INTRODUCTION

This Book of Psalms is a book of poems or songs of worship, praise, thankfulness and repentance. Each Psalm is complete by itself. Scholars think David wrote 73 of the Psalms while Asarh wrote 12, the sons of Korah 10, with just 1 written by Moses, Heman writing 1 Ethan 1 and just 1 or 2 by Solomon.

They were written by a variety of people so have a more universal appeal. They show a variety of emotions and are loved by many people. Hebrew poetry has some peculiar aspects, for instance they use two lines together, the second either repeats the first or gives the opposite of the first. My prayer is that we will appreciate these Psalms more than we have before.
